in pentecostals and roman catholics on becoming a christian dr karen murphy explores the fifth round of the international roman catholic pentecostal dialogue 1998 2006 discussing spirit baptism faith conversion experience and discipleship dr murphy notes areas in which the dialogue has evolved since its inception in 1972 she unpacks the commonalities that bond catholics and pentecostals and examines theological divergences and challenges to dialogue while catholics approach becoming a christian from a sacramental perspective most pentecostals think of christian initiation in non sacramental or conversionist terms a reality that fosters ongoing tensions between the two traditions dr murphy reveals how catholics and pentecostals seek to overcome this dichotomy by honoring spirituality and experience as integral to the ecumenical encounter this volume continues professor roland teske s translation of a series of important questions from henry of ghent s summa of ordinary questions summa quaestionum ordinarium it contains the latin text of questions 25 through 30 which treat of god s unity and simplicity a close english translation a philosophical introduction and notes identifying all of henry s sources moreover there is a glossary of henry s often complex technical terminology the questions translated in this volume impressively reflect the changed intellectual climate in the last quarter of the thirteenth century after the condemnations of 1277 to henry aristotelianism is not a viable option for a christian thinker reading the philosopher with greater historical accuracy than thomas aquinas as teske writes henry reaffirms the catholic faith vigorously against the influence of a philosophy that in his view applies principles of greek metaphysics to christianity without sufficient discernment henry develops many of his positions in critical dialogue with thomas aquinas whom he associates with the overly enthusiastic kind of aristotelianism that he helped condemn in 1277 the concept of a european constitutional area has been used in legal scholarship to describe a common space of constitutionalism where national and international constitutional guarantees interact to maintain the common constitutional values of europe this concept has not yet been tested in a case where the constitutional order of a member state of the european union seems to develop systemic deficiencies the present volume aims to assess recent constitutional developments in hungary and romania as well as the interplay of national international and european constitutionalism which react to the loopholes in national constitutions accordingly a core part of the volume is an in depth analysis of the situation in hungary and romania based on that the volume offers an account of the different reaction mechanisms of the european union and of the council of europe beyond a detailed stock taking of these mechanisms their legal and political frameworks are explored as well as different ways to extend their reach in this way the volume contributes to a little studied aspect of european constitutionalism
